LIBERTY SOLD.

Captain Booth Sells His Packet to Captain Tom Prince.

WILL BE TAKEN TO THE SOUTH

Where she will Run in the Natchez and Bayou Sara Trade with the Lulu Prince—The Price is $14,000—The Deal was Consummated Yesterday Morning. Captain Booth to Retire From the River. News of the River.

Yesterday morning at Parkersburg a deal was closed by which Captain John K. Booth, who has so long been actively engaged on the river, sells his packet Liberty, to Captain Thomas Prince, of this city, for $14,000, cash.

Captain Prince has been looking for a packet this week, on account of the sinking in the Mississippi river of the Lulu Prince, which ran in the Natchez and Bayou Sara trade. It was not his intention to replace the Lulu Prince, as he anticipates that he will be able to raise that boat without great damage, but he wants another packet to run in connection with the Lulu Prince.

Tuesday night a representative of Captain Prince went to Parkersburg and opened negotiations with Captain Booth, who was there superintending repairs on his boat. Captain Booth was not averse to selling his packet and named his price, $14,000 cash, which was accepted yesterday morning by Captain Prince, and the deal closed. The Liberty is receiving the finishing touches of the extensive repairs made at the Parkersburg docks, but she will be here next Tuesday, when she will be turned over to her new owner. Captain Prince will have an electric lighting plant placed on the boat while here and give her an entire new outfit, including cabin furnishings. She will then depart for the Mississippi.

Captain Booth, it is said, will permanently retire from the river to his farm on the West Virginia side of the river below Clarksburg and it is not now known whether or not a new packet will be placed in the Wheeling and Parkersburg trade, where the Liberty has plied since she left the Clarksburg trade over a year ago. The captain is one of the oldest men actively in river life to-day, and if he retires it can be said that he has earned a rest.

The Liberty was built at Harmer, Ohio, below Marietta, in 1889, and is one of the staunchest packets on western waters. Her measurements are: Gross tonnage, 351.33; net tonnage, same; length, 194 feet; beam, 34.4 feet; depth of hold, five feet. She cost $16,000 and has just had extensive repairs and alterations made at a cost of over $2,500, so that at $14,000 Captain Booth does not receive a fancy price.

Joe Alexander, of Moundsville, an old Cincinnati and Pittsburgh pilot, has taken the wheel on the Lexington.

The towboat J. W. Alles, which has been tied up at Proctor during the low water, left for Pittsburgh last night. The Wheeling tow-boat, Belle Prince, helped her out.

The Pittsburgh and Cincinnati packet line is about to let a contract for another new packet, to be built on the lines of the peerless Virginia. She will be 25 feet in length and forty-four foot beam.

The Lexington leaves this morning for Matamoras and way landings. She will receive freight through to Marietta, having made a traffic arrangement with the Barnsdall, which was between Matamoras and Marietta.

The Jewel will not be here to go out in the Clarksburg trade this afternoon, as was expected. When about to be launched from the docks at Parkersburg, she met with a slight accident, her "deadwood" being broken. She will be in Clarksburg this evening, however, and will be here to depart at her usual hour, Friday afternoon, or Saturday at the latest.

The following are the particulars of the accident at the government lock at the mouth of the Muskingum river: The floor of the lock, consisting of piling, double layers of heavy transverse timbers, is uplifted and torn asunder in many places and the upper gates and a portion of the west wall. The break was caused by the water leaking under the floor, as a result of faulty construction or the constant action of several large springs known to exist, the immense pressure, when the head was on, bursting the floor like an eggshell.
